

Voices of Peabody Project Release

I, _____, donate the intellectual and literary property rights, including copyright of my tape-recorded interview on _____ 2006, and subsequent transcriptions thereof, to Vanderbilt University in exchange for its efforts to preserve and make the contents available for research. This unrestricted gift does not preclude any use that I myself may wish to make of the information in the recordings.

Vanderbilt University's use of the interview may include conversion of the taped-interview and/or its transcription to digital format for delivery over the Internet or by other electronic means.
